Specifically, both the Foundation and Rotary were being recognized for the free food distribution program that has been running twice a month since the fall of 2009. The Foundation also received a Certificate of Special Congressional Recognition. 2010 Youth Philanthropy and Service Camp

They came to learn, have fun and share ideas on new and innovative ways to increase the impact of youth philanthropy and service learning in their hometowns across the nation. More than 400 students from small towns and big cities across Michigan and 5 other states, made their way to the 2010 Youth Philanthropy and Service Camp in East Lansing. The agenda was packed with sessions on topics such as proactive grantmaking, needs assessment, hunger and homelessness, networking and developing new projects that could be replicated in the participants' communities.

Members of the local youth advisory committee, the Cadillac & Kellogg for Youth Committee, attended the camp held at Michigan State University in East Lansing, MI.

This year marked the first time that the Michigan Community Foundations' Youth Project (MCFYP) and their affiliated Youth Advisory Committees (YACs) combined their annual Youth Grantmakers Summer Leadership Conference with the Michigan LEAGUE powered by Learning to Give and Learn and Serve. This opened the camp doors to students participating in Service Learning programs through their respective high schools. Breannah Alexander, CMF's new Program Associate for Youth Philanthropy, called this year's camp "a once in a lifetime experience."

The 2010 Youth Philanthropy and Service Camp was entirely planned and facilitated by a planning committee of young people. A joint effort between the Michigan Community Foundation's Youth Project (MCFYP) board and the Service-Learning committee, these 24 youth leaders chose speakers, planned the camp schedule, facilitated sessions, and hosted the three-day event.

Attending the 2010 Youth Philanthropy and Service Camp from the Cadillac & Kellogg for Youth Committee were Stella Doering, David Kraynak, Gunnar Loeks, Sarah Mitchell, Tyler Neiss, Dale Lynn Staats, and Sarah Zrodowski. Acting as adult support for the young people was Adult Advisor Linda Kimbel, the Executive Director of the Cadillac Area Community Foundation.
